As KFC franchisees, we are guided by head office when it comes to POS solutions. However, beyond general recommendations, we are left to determine the best systems for our particular environment. Of course POS systems only form part of the broader IT picture and as such, specialist knowledge and expertise is required.

Since 2008, we have relied on This Solution to guide and support us in all aspects of our IT infrastructure. They have been outstanding to work with - they provide the depth of understanding that's required in this industry in order to deliver reliable solutions that solve problems and enhance efficiencies. In short, we wouldn't be without them.
